

BUSINESS TRAINING ON THE VALUE OF NATURE

Do you know what the value of nature is to your business?

Join our first training event on 17 October 2019 in Lisbon
to get started on your natural capital journey

WE VALUE NATURE

Do you understand your environmental risks and opportunities? Do you want to learn how to integrate the value of nature in business decision-making?

Join our first Natural Capital Training Event on 17 October 2019 in Lisbon

What will you learn?

- Gain a strong understanding of the relationships between business and nature and related business risks and opportunities,
- Explore practical approaches and tools to integrate natural capital into business decision-making,
- Learn from leading companies' experiences,
- Explore concrete practices of natural capital integration on the ground.

Who is this training for?

This training event is open to any business with an interest in learning more about how to integrate natural capital into its internal decision-making. It will be most useful to businesses that need guidance on where and how to start.

The training event is free of charge and has limited spaces available. Make sure to quickly express your interest in participating by signing-up here. Should we be unable to confirm your participation, you will be listed for future training opportunities.
